RECOMMENDED WEBSITES

Both students and parents can stay up to date by routinely checking the College Counseling webboard (login required) on the Friends Seminary website, www.friendsseminary.org.

The following websites may also be useful tools in your college searches. The Friends Seminary Library can help students with these sites if no computer is available at home.

ACT
http://www.act.org   or   http://www.actstudent.org

The Campus Pride Ultimate Queer College Guide
www.campuspride.org

Campus Reel
https://www.campusreel.org

Campus Tours Index: Virtual College Tours
http://www.CampusTours.com.
This site is linked to a number of college and university websites, some with maps and even live videos of their campuses. This is more convenient than chasing all the sites around the internet itself; it does come with advertising naturally.

College Board Online
http://www.collegeboard.org/
This is an enormously helpful site; it contains worthwhile tips, testing dates, registration and reporting services, and access to the CSS Profile.

The College Essay Guy
www.collegeessayguy.com
Free Resources for writing the personal statement.

College Express
https://www.collegexpress.com/lists/
A resource for lists by major, athletics, campus vibe, etc..

College Navigator
https://nces.ed.gov/collegenavigator/
A good place to check the most popular (or oversubscribed) majors on campus.

Colleges That Change Lives
www.ctcl.org

Common Application Online

http://www.commonapp.org

Common Data Set

Search school name + common data set to access school specific admission and enrollment information.

CUNY Main Website for the Entire System

https://www.cuny.edu/

National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA)

http://www.ncaa.org

Peterson's Website

http://www.petersons.com

A useful search engine.

SUNY Main Website for the Entire System

www.suny.edu

Universities and Colleges Admission Services

www.ucas.com

An organization that manages the application process for universities and colleges.